

SOUTH CAROLINA LAW ENFORCEMENT DIVISION

Contact: Bobbi Schlatterer
Office: (803) 896-7013

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

February 27, 2006

PRESS CONFERENCE AND DEMONSTRATION

South Carolina Law Enforcement Division (SLED), Richland County Sheriff's Office, Columbia Police Department, Lexington County Sheriff's Office, Cayce Police Department, West Columbia Police Department, and Lexington Police Department in Conjunction with LoJack Corporation Announce Partnership to Combat Auto Theft.

When: Wednesday, March 1, 2006, 10:00 a.m.

What: Local law enforcement officials will speak at this event that officially launches the availability of the LoJack Stolen Vehicle Recovery Network (SVRN) in the area. The LoJack system is the only one of its kind that is directly integrated into law enforcement agencies to help police officers track and recover stolen vehicles.

The event will provide media with the opportunity to:

- hear from local officials about the fight against auto theft
- learn about the stolen vehicle recovery network from LoJack representatives and law enforcement personnel
- participate in a demonstration by riding in patrol vehicles as they test track a LoJack-equipped vehicle

The demonstration will provide an excellent opportunity to interview and photograph law enforcement representatives who are actively using the LoJack system. Media packets and fact sheets will be provided at the event.

Where: South Carolina Law Enforcement Division Headquarters
4400 Broad River Road
Columbia, S. C. 29210
803 737-9000